

4 Student Artists
0 Give Piano
4 Recital at Springs

6 Bedford county music lovers will
2 be given still another treat of en-
9 tertainment, it was announced re-
6 cently by William Wilfong, as ar-
1 rangements have been completed
0 for a piano recital to be held at 8 Bedford Springs Hotel, Sunday,
3 March 19, at 3 p. m.

9 Mr. Wilfong, a graduate of Du-
0 quesne and Pittsburgh universities,
3 acting for the St. James Episco-
6 pal church of Bedford Men's club
7 and several interested residents of 9 Everett and Bedford, announced
7 that the performance, even though
9 not on a professional scale, will be 7 of top quality.

9 Four budding artists have con-
9 sented to appear on the all-piano
7 program. The performers are class-
7 ed as student artists and in addi-
7 tion to attending universities in,
7 Pittsburgh devote their time to the 7 classes in music.

7 Their accomplishments have been 7 rated excellent as non-professional.
7 The program was planned to fill
7 the demand for more of the better
7 type of music for Bedford county.
7 The program is being brought to 7 Bedford county by the church
7 group.

7 Mr. Wilfong, in planning the pro-
7 gram, has spent several months se-
7 lecting artists which would appeal
7 to Bedford countians. The pro-
7 gram, as completed to date, is as 7 follows:

7 A Haydn sonata and several
7 waltzes and a Brahms Rhapsody
7 played by Harold Rudolph.

7 A Bach prelude and a Chopin
7 Ballad by Mary Jane Matherson.

7 "Warsaw Concerto" and "Malagu-
7 ena" played by Edward Laurent.

7 "The Second Hungarian Rhap-
7 sody" by Franz Joseph Liszt, "The 7 First Movement of the Concerto in 7 A Minor" by Grieg, both played by 7 Virginia Jancian.

7 Tickets will be placed on sale lat-
7 er this week.

Plan To Attend
7 In your summer plans, include
7 Farm and Home Week at the Penn-
7 sylvania State College June 27, 28
7 and 29.
